HORVATH TOWERS COMMENCES CONSTRUCTION OF TOWER IN RESORT TOWN

SOUTH BEND, IN – NOVEMBER 12, 2007: Horvath Towers, LLC, a leading developer and manager of wireless communications towers in the Midwest, has recently commenced construction of a communications tower in the resort town of Long Beach, Indiana on the idyllic shores of Lake Michigan. After numerous talks with the Town of Long Beach and their residents voicing their frustrations with the lack of cellular service, Horvath and the town entered into a lease agreement to build a tower on town property located at 2142 Karwick Road, Long Beach, IN that will serve wireless carriers looking to expand their service area in the area. In addition to the anchor tenant, talks are underway with several interested carriers for space on the 195' monopole, which was initially designed for 4 carriers, but which can be upgraded to accommodate others.

Horvath Towers owns and develops towers for wireless communications carriers and public safety entities. Towers developed by Horvath are consistently rated among the highest in occupancy in their respective regions. Horvath's principal, Jackie Horvath, has established her company as a leading developer and manager of towers in the Midwest, in addition to having a presence in Pennsylvania and Texas. Horvath Towers is based in South Bend, Indiana and has a satellite office in Chicago, Illinois.
